NOTES

GRID Squares of 11,000 yards: columns A–K west to east, rows 1–11 north to south. Bearings are true, taken from Fletcher Field.

FLAK Red rings show the 1.5 nm range of each armed site. The twin 25 mm guns are hand-trained and poor beyond about 2,200 yards.

LIGHTS Each airbase and depot has two searchlights, reach about 4 nm at night.

PATROLS Escorts patrol a racetrack of 0.3–1.0 nm off their station at 16 kt (ship symbols enlarged so they can be read).

ROADS Depots and airbases are linked by paved road; harbours are linked to the villages by native track. Bases across open water are supplied by sea; a bridge exists only over a short span.

FLAGS The Rising Sun is the Japanese flag; the Stars and Stripes is the American flag.

ENGAGEMENT

All assets in the area of engagement flying the Japanese flag are to be considered targets of opportunity.

Allied flags are not to be engaged.
